

I've been listening to your reads of Brandon Sanderson books for a few years now. I just wanted to say thank you for reading them to me, and reading them so well. I am dyslexic. I couldn't read until I was around 10, and even now my reading is slow and hard. In middle school I found a love for reading with Percy Jackson, but as I grew older, I lost that reading spark. The books I was interested in were higher reading levels each year, and my reading skill didn't improve. Reading became just too hard, no matter how much I loved the stories. Your audiobooks returned my reading spark. I would not be able to read The Way of Kings on my own. Or rather, I could have but it would have taken me multiple years. Thanks to you guys it took me less than 1 week. You've made these books, my favorite books, accessible to me, and I really appreciate that. So, thank you, I guess, is what I want to say.
